Belonging, Being & Becoming

The Early Years Learning Framework (EYLF) states "Learning outcomes are most likely to be achieved when early childhood educators work in partnership with families. Educators recognise that families are children's first and most influential teachers."

"Children thrive when families and educators work together to support young children's learning."

Child's name - _____

Who is in my family

Parents _____

Siblings _____

Grandparents _____

Who lives with me in my house? _____

What helps your child when they are sad or upset? (cuddle, teddy, being left alone) _____

Belonging - “Experiencing belonging – knowing where and with whom you belong - is integral to human existence.”

Who is important in your child’s life? What family, cultural and social groups do they belong to? Are there any special customs/traditions that are important to your family? Do you have pets?

Being - “Being recognises the significance of the here and now in children’s lives”

What really matters to your child at this time in their lives? What are their interests and strengths, and what do they love doing? What do they find challenging?

Becoming - “Becoming reflects the process of rapid and significant change that occurs in the early years as young children learn and grow.”

What is important to you when you think about how your child will learn and grow during their time at preschool? What do you want most for your child while they are with us?

Kind regards
